The stock market today developed features. For the special favorites (Lake Shore, the Northwest and St. Paul), the same tactics were employed which have been mentioned before—a system of manipulation well calculated to mystify general operators in regard to the meaning and intent of the movements.

A prominent broker buys stock at a price higher than that at which a moment before he was apparently a large seller; or he sells at a price lower than the price at which just before he had purchased a considerable lot.

Of the Northwestern stocks the story was told that a dividend of 2 per cent on the common stock was as certain as the coming of Christmas.

All of this may be true, because it is known that certain members of the company's board of directors who "never speculate" are heavily loaded with the stock as "an investment."

The St. Pauls conducted with the stock as "an investment." The St. Pauls conducted with the stock as "an investment."
